THE MARK OF MUTIE

AN INTRODUCTION

Welcome you turned on people, welcome to the second issue of SKATE MUTIES from the 5th DIMENSION. As you are probably aware this Fan-Zine concerns its self mainly with the strange pursuit of standing on moving peices of expensive wood, skateboarding. This issue we have included a guide to buying a basic deck. We sure as shit could of done with one when we began as an awful lot of us got well ripped to fuck by MR.Bum Deal. There are bits and bobs tis ish. pinched from a English Skateboard Association newsletter, so guys, hope you don't mind too much... More on the E.S.A. in no.3. Scene reports are welcome with open tyewriters plus pictures of yourself doing unnatural things with a skateboard are needed. DO YOU WANT STICKERS! We've got stickers. Frames from the comic on the back cover are available in zany sticker format at only 10p each. Collect all nine for just 70p and swap with your chums..... Don't foget the S.A.E. Issue Three we suspect will be out at the end of April till stay dirty, ollie high and WATCH THE SKIES.....

The shock horror news from around the region is that the half-pipe structure at Bristol's top skater-park has bust. The half pipe had been well wonky for a considerable amount of time and the likes of clumsy B.M.X.ers coupled with the recent visit of fat boy skater TOMMY STUPID has not helped. Bristol Skate crews are in an offical state of mourning.. Obviously the NAZIS who control Bristol City Council(owners of the said skate park)will not repair it as they hate to see the 'kids' having fun for free. Instead they would like to see everyone going to their poxy Sport ping-pong ball..sly as fuck council boys.... has folded!! This fine indie label that produced such punk rock huggies as DISORDER, CHAOS U.K. and THE STUPIDS is being closed up because big boss man TIM BENNET has enough of the rat race and wishes to drop out. He tells us that BUDDISHUM and a career in ACUPUNCTURE is more his kinda thing these days. Its a crazy world huh.....meanwhile other Bristol hardcore label MANIC EARS will be taking over the C.O.R. empire,their next project is a massive international compilation album.Lets hope its better than the usual drossy comps.you crazy lugholes..... Last issue we forgot to mention one groovy skate place known as the BOWER ASHTON RAMP. This large wooden extended half-pipe has claimed its first victim.Tim 'AAARRGH' Medlock passed away while riding this monster on a sunny sunday afternoon recently..Well thats not strictly true as he only broke ankle. But it might as well be death for a skater as it puts you out of the running for more than a few hours. So get mended soon Tim and Mr.pad manufacture invent something for those ankles O.K!.....A new venue for the West Country called the KNIGHTSTONE THEATRE has opened up in sleepy WESTON-SUPER-MARE. Although its good news for the bumpkins who inhabit this unfashionable sea-side town but a boil on the bum for us city slickers. Now loads groovy bands like the FLATMATES,CAMP-LR VAN BEETHOVEN and GENO WASHINGTON will play there instead of Bristol. Its a bloody liberty it be!S.M.5.D. urge you to write letters of compliant about noise,late night rowdiness etc. to Weston Town Councillors to get the bugger closed down.....Thrash Metal fools ONSLAUGHT recently made a 'triumphant' return to Bristol or so they say. Our sources say it was more like an internal disaster area!The gig was populated by a handfull of glue sniffing mohicans and heavy metal fans with more patches on their back than brains. The support band where embrassin' to watch and ONSLAUGHT played a set of songs that have been stolen out of the METALLICA BY NUMBERS songbook.Come on boys can't you do better than this?Can't you sell out properly or what?.....Well we are afraid to say cont. elsewhere.

SO BONGO BRAIN YA WANNA BE WITH IT! AN BUY A deck!

A GUIDE TO BUYING A BOARD FOR THE FIRST TIME SKATER

First off you can decide either to part with real money and get a top class vert board or buy what is known as a "budget board".

Budget boards aren't worth toffee when it comes to serious riding. Normally, the wheels are slow, the trucks don't turn and they break, and the decks are made of Taiwanese maple which tends to be weak in construction. In short budget boards can be a complete waste of time. Only get one if you can't afford anything else.

You're best bet is to part with your hard saved cash and get a good set up. You'll find you'll have to buy the components separately. There are NO good complete packages (unless the shop makes it up for you) So what should you buy? Well, it's up to you, but here are a few tips & hints to help you.

WHEELS.

What most serious ramp skaters use are 97A duro wheels (Duro's are what the resilience of the wheels is measured in). For street use you want something around 90A. Colour doesn't matter. There's lots of choice from £16.00 to £40.00 a set. If you want a bargain look for CD's. These are wheels with 'cosmetic defects' ie. The colour is off. Watch out for wheels left over from the seventies. Urethane, which wheels are made of, goes off after a while so wheels from that period have definitely had it. Look out for the shine on the wheel. Another rule "if they shine, they suck".

THESE ARE VERY NICE MAD- AM!!

OTHER ESSENTIALS.

Okay. You've got your deck, wheels, and trucks. What else? There are all the extra's which you need to consider. Rail bars, nose savers, tail savers, copers, lappers etc. Which do you need?

The only real essential of these are rail bars. As well as protecting your deck, they are very useful for sliding tricks and as an aid to grabbing the board for airs tricks. Nose & tail savers will protect your deck but don't help improve your skating at all. Lappers are regarded as a must by some skaters. They help on tricks like fackie rocks where they help prevent the dreaded 'hang up'. Copers are a matter of personal choice. Some people prefer the feeling of metal on coping, and disdain the use of copers. On the other hand when you've paid twenty quid for a truck it makes sense to protect it from that sort of wear and tear.

SAFETY GEAR.

During the 'craze days' many skaters refused to wear safety gear but a major factor in the development of skating in the eighties was the evolution of improved pads. You need good protection if you bail from a 8' Japan air! So what you need are knee & elbow pads, a helmet, and maybe wrist guards & some hip pads. The most essential of these are the knee pads. The best around are Rectors. If you can't afford them look for some of the copies that are beginning to appear. You need to have pads which have a plastic cup on them. This is for sliding out on tricks you don't make.

The most common helmet in skating these days is the Pro-Tec. Again this can run to a fair amount of money. If you can't afford one look for a Norcon, or a better one from the Cooper range. Don't get a padded cycling helmet or a cheap canoeing helmet. You might as well put a paper bag on your head.

That's it. You should have most of the information you need to go out and get a decent board. If you get stuck and know someone who is an experienced skater ask them to help. Failing that then give us a ring. We'll be pleased to help. Get Shreddin' Dudes.

TRUCKS.

Again, there are a lot to choose from, but there are only a few good companies. The big three are Tracker, Independent, & Gullwing, with other companies like Venture & Thunder coming through. You won't get a good set for under £25.00 a pair. When buying look for thin baseplates, air bubbles or holes, and if the king pin is higher than the axle. If you find any of these DON'T BUY THEM. A quick rule of thumb is "If it's chrome, it's crap". If you have a 10" board then buy 8" or 9" trucks. Your wheelbase should be at least as wide as your deck.

DECKS.

Don't let the graphics fool you. Graphics don't make the board any stronger or ride any better. They just increase the 'pose' value. If you're a small skater you'll want a smaller deck (around 9" to 10" Canadian maple. If it says "made in Taiwan" leave it. Prices start at around £35.00

Dear 'Muties'

In the first edition of your Zine you did a review of our gig in Birmingham that we did with CHAOS U.K. and a load of other bands. You said in the review that we played 'gumbie thrash', well fair enough that's your own opinion. Also you assumed that all our songs were about Nuclear and you took the piss out of this. What a moronic attitude to take! For fucks sake, getting the message across that we could all die at the push of a button is pretty important! I mean, what makes you so high & mighty just cus you ride around on overpriced bits of wood. Hardcore could do without stupid, petty attitudes like yours. In the words of the people (Americans) you think are so cool, "YOU SUCK!"

Kev from Deviated Instinct

S.M.$D. In the words of the great Edwin Starr, "War! What is it good for? lots of bloody boring songs about an easy cop out subject", yeah say it again "Deviated Instinct! What are they good for! Taking the piss out of!"

Hi Muties,

I'm writing to you as a girl who's into skating to ask why it is so male dominated. Where I live, Weymouth on the south coast, nearly all the skaters are blokes and I get a really hard time off them just for being a girl. It's really dumb I think that it's impossible for guys to accept that us female skaters aren't as serious as them. What are they afraid of? That we'll prove to be better than them? So come on all you macho skaters give us girls a chance!

Luv

Hanna

S.M.$D. We totally agree here at S.M.$D. But the trouble is how far do you take the anti-sexist stance? It's more than likely you end up being patronizing.

Dear Skate Muties

Hi

Dear Skate Muties, Hi!

I'm a skater in Darlington and when I was, along with a few mates, down in London last week I picked up a copy of your really funny Zine from SLAM CITY SKATES. Must say it really does rip! I think the cover was really cool (was that Ugly Faced Watkins on the front I wonder?). We made some stickers with the slogan from the cover 'Pedestrians Must Die' to put up round Darlington and frighten all the grannies, so we thought we'd send you some O.K! Hopes theres an issue 2 out soon as we would really love a copy. One complaint, do some easier trick tips next time as the first ones where much too hard

cheers

Dean and the Darlington Boneless Mob

S.M.$D. Thanks for all the flattery and lets make one point clear, I.P.C. comics stole the Watkins head off us. We are in court over it at the moment so no further comment will be made...

ANYONE FOR A SKATE BOOM?

So hands up those who've heard that the gentle art of skatin is really gonna hit the big shit come summer? Well most definately have heard this sort of talk in the most furtive grounds of scootin.

As one skate bro remarked "A converse on every foot, underneath a deck and up top the STUPIDS in each ear." Its a safe bet that our luverly British media will have quite a lot to do the re-emergence from the murky underground. Journalists wallow in the chance to write about what they see as the "latest" craze, especially if it involves illegal/danger and young people in shorts (well known fact; All journalist are over-weight perverts). It'll be a matter of months when the local papers start sporting those headlines, you know the sort "SKATEBOARD MENACE PROBE" AND "BAN THE BASTARDS SAYS TERRORIZED MOTHER OF THREE". One London rag that has tried oly onto the band-wagon is "SOUNDS". Thier last years feature of two pages (even more than J. Hendricks got that week) was passable, mainly due to the fact, it is suspected, that they rubber johnny for me immediately took the words of the interviewed skaters as gods own truth and they know piss all about skatin at the "SOUNDS" office. So one big league paper has discovered a youth "sub-cult" to blither on about, how long till the "SUN" really finds out and starts printing "20 THINGS YOU NEVER KNEW ABOUT THOSE NAUGHTY SKATER-BOARDERS!" kinda stuff? Other media outlets like surf and B.M.X. seem to be catching on to the idea that an upsurge is happenning but seem to concern themselves with publishing crap adverts for 10p skate gear and telling how long your shorts should be this summer... Talking of skate apparel the clothing side is bound to populize the action side of it all. VANS seem to be worn by just about every trendy joe at the moment and skate "clobber" is rearing its overpriced head in those sorts of magazines that assume they really dig what the kids are wearing. Soon skinny tanned models will be prancing down the catwalk with a cheap Taiwan deck tucked under their arm, draped in the latest designer skate wear from the HOUSE OF FRAZER. The skate 'n' surf look cannot avoid the gaze of gen. public for much longer in a fad crazed world, so lets expect more and more extreme styles from ramp-warped minds of U.S. and U.K. jons

F.F.F.F.FIST FUCK!!

DOYA KNOW THAT

Then of course we gotta the music! Skatin bands have been converting herds of un-washed punk rockers to the ways and disciplines of the board. The idea of thrashing your body while thrashing ones ears seems to have caught on with the once lazy hardcore. Bands like BAD DRESS SENSE, THE STUPIDS and THE DEPRAVED are really making the crossover to the mass (if not a tinsy bit trendy) audience with a whole bag full of airplay on night time RADIO ONE and concerts well attented by people who'd not seen dead at a hardcore show usually. The music involved in skating certainly gives the scene alot more guts and violence that was severly lacking back in the late 70's when skating got its first suck at the nipple of craze-dom. Back the music was a real load of horrible old crap. Stuff like LED. ZEP. and BEACH BOYS was "in" and "rad", no wonder it died out with old bastards like THE CARVELLS recording garbage like "RIDE MY SKATE BOARD DOWN THE L.A. RUN", JESUS! the sick runneth to my throat just at the thought of it... Will this mean skate discs from the likes of ELTON JOHN, AH HA and JESUS AND THE MARY CHAIN? Lets hope we at S.M.

Hello once more my buddies from the quaint little island they laugingly named Great Britain! This column is here to instruct you bums in the catering technics of the culteral capital of the world, yea ya smart schmucks, you guessed it the U.S. of A!! Now, after last issues little lesson I received a few whinging compliants about the meat content in one of my lip-smackin receipes. Well let me tell you, ya wimp-ass, pussy whipped english boys. Meat is what our goddamn country was raised on, we built our proud nation on medium rare steak!! If it hadn't of been for McDonalds keeping us going in W.W.II, we would not of saved ya sleazeball asses from the krouts!! So can the crap about this veg-i-tarr-en-ism and start burger munching O.K. losers! So seeing as we got cleared up lets start with the first gob watering munchie and I like to call it...

Only 98¢ Each - Special Price

GUT CARESS HARLEM SURPRISE(BHOPAL STYLE)
 2 paks of "Ma Grimeys home receipes noo-dles ("Pot Noodles" will do if you no-hoper jerks can't score the real Mc coy).

I tin of sardines in brine.
 2 mixing spoons of brown sugar
 3 huge cloves of garlic
 a wedge E.E.C surplus butter (serves six)

So citizens, you make up the noodles exact to da in-structions and don't goof cus uncool noodles are as popular as Gadaffi at Disneyland. Slap them into a frying pan + then chuck in the rest of them eye catching ingredients and fry hard for say 10 mins. While your messing around with that get ya chick(or your ass buddy, homo!) to deep fry some white sliced bread. Finish up the bread + topping and put them together in da most edible way, then scoff till you drop.. wheres the surprise? Who finds the garlic in their trap of course, you beef-brians!!

MY MUMMY GAYS YOU BETTER READ THIS!

E.H.S.S. what this basically means is that if you don't answer the 12 questions correctly the old dole money will be cut off! But don't sweat fellow dolesters we at S.M.S.D. in association with the CIVIL AND PUBLIC SERVICE UNION have provided a list of answers that will get you off the hook. But remember these 12 questions only apply to people signing on for the first time, but we suspect it will be broadened to every one signing on soon.....Crumbs Thatcher's facist Britain or what, eh?

THESE ARE THE QUESTIONS YOU WILL HAVE TO ANSWER:

How you answer will decide whether your Benefit is suspended or not.

Q1. What are you doing to find work?

A. If you answer 'nothing' or say 'I'm looking around, your Benefit will be suspended. SO give definite examples of jobs you've applied for. Keep evidence of any job applications. Mention all visits to Job Centres. Don't forget anything!

Q2. What job do you normally do? If you have not worked before, say so. This question is harmless, and your answer will not affect your Benefit.

Q3. What job are you looking for?

A. If you say 'Any suitable full-time work preferably.....' and then give your preference your Benefit won't be cut. If you limit your choice of work, your Benefit may be cut.

Q4. Are you willing to consider any job?

A. If for any reason you say 'no' your Benefit will be suspended. If you say 'yes' your Benefit should not be affected.

Q5. Can you start work today?

A. If for any reason you say 'no' your Benefit will be suspended, but the chances of your being offered a job are minimal!

Q6. Are you looking for full-time work?

A. If you say you're only available at certain times your Benefit will be suspended. If you say 'yes' your Benefit should not be affected.

Q7. How far are you able to travel to work?

If you say 'within daily travelling distance' your Benefit should not be cut, but if you limit the distance you are prepared to travel your Benefit will be suspended.

Q8. Do you have any adult dependants or children to care for during working hours?

A. If you do, answer 'yes'.

Q. Can you make immediate arrangements to care for them?

A. If you say 'no', your Benefit will be suspended. If you say 'yes' your Benefit will not be affected. If you do have to look after people then there may be other Benefits you can claim which will leave you better off anyway. Contact one of the Advice Centres overleaf for help.

Stump....yeah STUMP there a group are they not? A lot of people saw their performance on the PAULA YATES glamour vechicle namely THE TUBES. A song about big bottoms which is really juicy and makes up for the sore lack of bottom humour in contemporary music. "How much is the fish? How much is the chips?" the song went; well it sure beats singing about girlies and cars... So it seems a large wedge of people where impressed enough cough up £2.50 for the show at a trendy little hangout going under the name of "The Tropic". Very nice, very modern and oh what a surprise the beer tastes just like piss. Elephant Men where the supporting act tonight and a huuuuuge lump of pooh they were as well. As challenging as Bernard Mathews and just a bit better looking. Thin ex-students who think that by using the name of a 19th century freak they will stop the crowd laughing at them. It did not work. A quick flog of the S.M.5th.D. to the rich young things (Fashion nte; black zip-up polo necks + flat-tops are in! Giving the appearance of Hitler Youth. Chic!) and with the profits we purchase some beer which could of been used to propell men into space. As if by magic hoards of zip-up polo necks were rushing towards the stage, either someone was handing out fivers or STUMP had the stage. Mmmm STUMP....wheres the quirkeness, wheres the outrage? Why does it sound so familer? Four songs proved too much for us and we slid through the idle crowd and then tastefull seating. Whilst admiring the rather nice upholstery a thought hit us all like a message from our lord. This group where imposters!! Ha, ha we have got them sussed out! Really we are watching the support group, but like those little plastic soldiers we used to buy as children, they have INTERCHANGABLE HEADS so they can murder STUMP and go around pretending to be them. Safe in the knowledge that the real STUMP could not be this crap we flogged the remaining S.M.5th.D finished up our drinks, tipped the doormen and speed of into the night to inform the police of the skullduggery....strange they not believe us....

MAGAZINE REVIEW...

EDGE

What I suppose must be the premier Skate/Surf for Great Britain. Tons of adverts for blooming expensive designer clothes and bronzed beach bums posing with surf boards. Roughly half is dedicated to skating and what there is I must say is massively boring. A load of 1977 photos and a crappy article on the Euro Championships make up the current copies effort on skating. Altogether very middle of the road (Glossy, £1.50, Edge Magazine, Suite 2, Floor 1, Alexandra House, Alexandra Road, Swansea.)

RUM + COKE

SICK TEEN

This is sooooo good! Like having ten orgasms in a row on laughing gas. This U.S. dumb/zine is essential reading for anyone with a sick sense of humour. Crammed full of warped cut outs and way out on a limb writings. Must be seen to be believed. Send a dollar and a I.R.C. or you will live to regret it..

CPASH COURSE

Altough this absolutly nothing to do with skating I think it is worth a look at. This Fanzine used to be the run of the mill punk thang you know, packed full of unoriginal postal interviews, big plugs for there friends, IO groups and a multitude of vegan receipes. Suddenly all that was scraped away and up in its place was thrust a new sensitive almost artistic image. My opinion is that he does quite pull it off. It comes off looking like a sixth formers idea of being arty. A brave collection all the same. (12p, No. 9, 32 Pendleton Green, Halewood Liverpool, L26 1UX)

TORN APART

Homegrown skate zine from Manchester. Good and scruffy like it should be. Many pictures of local dudes and in jokes which are wasted on the general reader. Still a super read and worth supporting.. (No. 2, 33 Ellenor Drive, Astley, Manchester, M29 7NN.)

S.M.S.D. got it wrong about DISORDER splitting up. The truth is that this international funcore unit are still going a'goodun'. They recently returned to the live stage by getting up and then getting at local alcoholic pub THE MONTPEILLER. When do we get more vinyl outputs scream the hungry punters...more on this next issue.....Wurzel like tunesmiths CHAOS are now NOT going to tour the world of U.K. namely the U.S.A. Instead the hopeless Mc. DONALDS have plonked for a European tour with the likes of NOTTINGHAM'S CONCRETE SOX and IPSWICH'S poorest EXTREME NOISE TERROR.....One last thing, why is it that no Bristol skater types have entered the big PRO/AM competition in London in the middle of March? Is it some dark secret we should know? Or do they not wish to show up the rest of ENGLAND as the talentless clods that they truly are? I think we should be told!... More dirt next time chums

U.K.

NEWS

Big shit on the international scene. Hardcore funsters SUCIDAL TENDENCIES have been signed up by mega-corp VIRGIN. They are to tour the U.K. in the summer so our sources say. Expect to see a radical change in music and a severe case of bad attitude as well. EDWARD SHRET well known London thrasher has ceased to write that wonderful skate-zine 'SKATE CITY TRIBUNE'. He says he wants to concentrate on his college career and some band he's just joined called..um..THE STUPIDS.....News reaches us that that three of a well known punk/thrash ANTISECT are now registered HERION ADDICTS. Keep up the good work lads and you'll be hip one day.....Vocalist with the midlands thrash outfit HERESY seems to have America on the brains these days. He is often seen dressing as a carbon copy U.S. hardcore fan with bandanas protruding from every pocket and up to three of the said spotty hankerchiefs on his bonce. And, oh dear, he's started talking in an american accent on stage.come on man pull yourself together!.....Worcester based thrashers DECADENCE WITHIN are soon to release an L.P. on MEANTIME WRECKORDS and have supposedly got a huge U.K. tour lined up. God knows who with as hardcore bands seem to never do more than a 5 date tour. Well we wish a big 'good on yer mates' to these young hopefuls and lets hope some of their enthusiasm rubs off on the world weary hardcore scene....

Where the hell have you been you scrotty little fag?

And now for a slice of ramp news. A new structure has forced its way up in West London. Financed by SLAM CITY SKATES and some community group its situated under the West Way near Latimer Rd Tube Station. The measurements are 10ft. trans. 1ft. vert, 20ft wide, with 16ft. flat. Whaa! Hey! definately shall be checked out in ish 3. The Worcester ramp, little known outside the area is forming a club and hopes to open up at the weekend. At the moment its open at Monday, Weds, & friday nights, and Tuesday & Thursday afternoons. So don't plan a jolly sunday morning trip just yet. The North? Yes we have got the Newcastle ramp and heres its details; 9ft. transition 20ft. wide with, gulp, channel. The location is at Walker Wheels, Pottery Bank, Walker, Newcastle. Tel 265-5116. Its only open Tuesday, Thursday, and Saturday.....As to the rest of the country more ramps are planned at Hitchin, St. Albans, Braintree, Wadebridge, Weston-Super-Mare and Swindon. So keep the peepers open and something large, wooden & curvy may soon appear near you. Next issue we will bring you lots of bitchy gossip from the WIND and SURF EXPO at Alexandra Palace and a load more terrian infomation.... bye, bye for now!

Q10. What is the minimum weekly wage you are prepared to accept?

A. If you say you want a wage higher than your last one, or higher than the going rate locally, your Benefit will be suspended. This is part of the Government's aim to lower wage expectations and so lower wages in the long run.

Q11. If the amount at Q10 is more than you have put at Q9 please say why.

A. If there are no good reasons why you are looking for higher wages than your last one eg. you haven't worked for several years or you have acquired new skills, your Benefit will be suspended.

Q12. Please give any other details which you think affect your availability for work.

A. Since all the other questions are concerning your availability for work you probably won't need to answer this one too.

O.K. DUDES! This is where I attempt to rant on about various H.C. bands that are tenderizing my ears + attacking my brain at this point in time. So lets go to.....Australia! If you like in the vein of RAMONES/DECENDANTS/BLACK FLAG then the HARD ONS are the band for you. Their latest vinyl offering "SMELL MY FINGER" an 8 track 12", features really heavy pop punk, very catchy tunes that stomp out on the raw guitar sound. The HARD ONS are definately a fun band you should check out. On WATERFRONT RECORDS... On a more aware + politically motivated level GASH (Girls Against Sexist Hype) have released CLEOPATRA. GA an L.P. on REACTOR + an E.P. on CLEOPATRA. GA play mid-tempo H.C. and the magority are not male which is rare for punk. The L.P. shi its along to manic thrash with a grinding beat, intense stuff, the E.P. is much faster this band are improving....Also from REACTOR their L.P. "HUMANOID OF BIOCHEMID" is a strange delight indeed, containing cuts of blistering thrash out which suddenly changes to a psychedelic mold + you could well think it was HAWKWIND! Well not a quiet record at all though. Expect more from the CONDEMNED with their brand of H.C./psychedelic mixture.....

VANS
"OFF THE WALL"

One of the more well known Australian bands, DEPRESSION have a 7" out called "BIG BROTHER" a metal/punk frenzied sound + with a lot more of the emphasis on metal than previous releases, though this does not spoil the music one little bit. Head bongoing stuff!...Fun bands are making a lot of headway these days + THE SPUNK BUBBLES are no exception. All I've heard of this band is a single called "METAL WENCH" (on CLEOPATRA) + my god I was pleasantly surprised! THE SPUNK BUBBLES take the element of fun, odd incredibly fast thrashing metal + harmonious vocals make this 7" platter a sexy little devil. Will we be nearing more of this group in the future? I certainly hope so!.... Right your probably wondering why I'm writin about bands/records that are pretty hard to get hold of! I am currently trying to get some of these records in stock for mail order purposes, so we shall see...Send a SAE/IRC for my current list of records + tapes, maybe I'll throw in some stickers that are lying around as well! Anyway, point is, I like to give exposure to bands + stuff from various parts of the world, I mean not every band/record is made in England or the U.S.! Next, I'll most likely go thru some Japanese stuff, + yeah, Japan is my favourite! That's it dudes, skate hardcore + not wimpy pop!

FUCK I! record reviews

now theres a shock.....

SOME ITEMS REQUIRE ADULT SUPERVISION

SCHOOLY D. 'Somewhere in the land of Norar...' L.P.

This not only chills, IT KILLS. Heavy Hip Hop from the New York teenager who they do say carries a large gun at all times. I saw him last year on a B.A.D. support slot and fuck, talk about a scary stage presence! Pounding drums + spaced out key boards give this album real mood. Buy this if you find DEF JAM stuff too lightweight. (Rhythm King Records in Association with Mite) (B)

LIPCREAM 'Kill Ugly Pop' LP

Crunchy, jerky + raw thrash attack from this manic Japanese band. Graunched out vocals all over the place to tribal incensed drum beats at high speed. Rawcous stuff. (SHANE) (CAPTAIN RECORDS, JAPAN.)

DISARM 'Dono' E.P.

Hailing from Sweden, Disarm sound very Discharge influenced to me ten times faster! Exceptionally raw guitar +drum + scraping gruff vocals. Deadly stuff!! (No Cabel, Sweden) (S)

ABADDON 'Wet Za Wet' L.P.

Errrmm... This Polish punk group have come up with a lame horse here. The tunes are slow + plodding with a decidedly lacklustre approach. Sounds very old hat to my hip young ears. Its only saving shot is a white reggae number on side two which is very much in the CLASH/S.L.F. vein. Other than that hardly worth a listen.. (Bear) (New Wave, BP6 75462 Paris CEDEX 10, France)

ATTITUDE ADJUSTMENT 'American Paranoia' L.P.

Can't compete! San Franciscos A.A. belt out 1,000 mph beats of speed thrash which just totally blows you away. Incredibly fast stuff executed + produced most well. A scorching hot debut..... (S) (Pusmort Records)

ADRENALIN O.D. 'Humungousfungusamongus' LP Wow! A.O.D. belt out intense blistering thrash which never loses steam for one moment. Deadly fast guitar & drum stuff churning your brain into a severe pulp. Also, they are absolutely hilarious about it, fun, fun, fun! (S) (BUY OUT RECORDS, P.O. BOX 363, VAUXHALL, NJ 07080, USA.)

THE SHOP ASSISTANCE 7"

Total crap. Jangly jingly love pop tunes with nice girlies singing. UUUUURRGAH!!! Distasteful + disgraceful stuff. Not very fond of indie pop. (you don't say. ED) (Subway, or W.E.A., I dunno + don't care) (S)

ELECTRO HIPPIES/GENERIC Split L.P.

Electro Hippies debit is here. Feroeious speeding grinding thrash blasting out your ears bursting them effectively, particularly like the splashing drum sound in places. Hot + intense music. Generic, where as mantain their gruff thrash approach also adding a few melodies into some songs with their polictical opinions. Its a real pity this band have split now. (Shane) (Flat Earth Collective, Newcastle)

CIVILISED SOCIETY? 'Scrap Metal'

OOCOOHH...Scrap Metal Mickey. Well thank the lord above that the metal influence on this album is minimal. Very much like the the INSTIGATORS except its more...um...sophisticated. Zappy drum work and haunting vocals make this the mostest Manic Ears release yet... (B) (Manic Ears + stuff)

VERBAL ABUSE 'Rocks your Liver' L.P.

Not an all out thrash attack is this album. Verbal Abuse are a hard hitting speed thrash/metal band which, yeah, rocks your liver! Best cover version of 'Saturday night is alright for fighting' Great L.P!

(Bunker Records, Paris, France) (S)

NECAZIONE 'Lc Spirito Continua' LP

Intense Italian power thrash here ripping thru two sides of tunes. The traditional NECAZIONE screaming vocals overcome this & the music is clear & well produced. Not a dull ears moment wasted! (SHANE) (DE KONCURRENT, POSTBUS 1458, 1001 LB AMSTERDAM, HOLLAND.)

FINAL CONFLICT L.P.

Cataclysmic speed thrash/metal continually ripping the flesh and grinding the bones. The force puts you into overdrive letting loose constant waves of energy as the band pummel out of the speakers. Immensely exhilarating... (S) (Pusmort Records, P.O. box 59, London N22)

I would like a 17-piece set of Hideous Orange Plastic Luggage at £29.95 because

DONG

Grober woke up in the morning. He went down-stairs and made some breakfast. He said hello to his friend and pushed parts of his body until his face lit up. He pressed another part of his friend's body, a B.B.C. 2 sign lit up. Grober then sat back and started watching his friend.

After about ten minutes he decided it was time to go out and skate. He pressed his friend again. This time his mate sort of went...dead.

Grober walked upstairs and put a round shaped piece of plastic on a machine. His head went from side to side with the beat of this funny noise. He started packing his skate stuff. He was excited about going skating.

He walked downstairs with his skate stuff. He opened the front door....."OH BOTHER", he mumbled. It was pitch black outside. He casually walked back up-stairs, put his skate gear down, got undressed, shouted "BLABBAD OBUUH!!", and got into bed

A MEMBER OF THE 'PILL PIPE SKATE HIPPIES' TRYING TO GET RID OF DANGEROUS DRUGS

We caught 'Paul McCharler' trying to 'stash' 58 grams of a cocaine and heroin mixture, by trying to sprinkle it around a field where the Pill half pipe skateboarding structure is situated.

When questioned about it, he first replied "I was only trying out this quick grow mushroom powder". But after realising that the police might catch on about the hallucinogenic mushrooms that grow around the ramp, he tried changing the excuse, saying that it was a strong weedkiller, used to destroy the weeds that interfere with the skate structure. It was reported that two sniffer dogs had overdosed..

Paul was given a £527 fine and two years of community plant service.
